SCIENCE | TECHNOLOGY | ENGINEERING | MATHEMATICS

Curriculum | STEM & activities

Fordsburg Boys | Curious minds. Practical skills. Confident problem-solvers.

1 STEM AT THE HEART OF LEARNING

Allied builds its curriculum around Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM). Strong subject knowledge, language skills and creativity support a connected approach: learners ask questions, investigate, create solutions and explain their thinking.

Learning develops from early discovery and practical projects to scientific enquiry, design challenges and computational thinking. Activities are adapted to the learner's grade and connect classroom knowledge with everyday problems.

2 FOUR CONNECTED WAYS TO LEARN

Science
Observe, investigate and use evidence.

→

Technology
Code, connect and create.

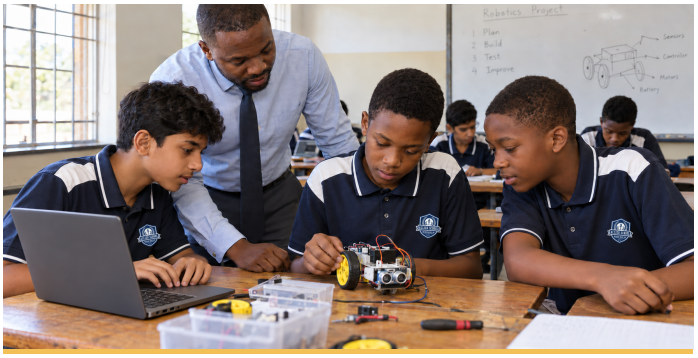

→

Engineering
Design, build test and improve.

Mathematics
Count, measure reason and solve.

3 CODING, ROBOTICS AND PRACTICAL SCIENCE

Coding & robotics

Practical science

Hands-on tasks encourage teamwork, safe investigation and perseverance. Learners try an idea, review what happens and improve their next attempt.

4 EXTRA-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

Soccer | Netball | Basketball | Cricket | Chess | Drama | Coding and robotics

Sport, strategy, performance and technology activities develop confidence, co-operation and interests beyond the classroom.

1 / THE PARTIES AND PLACEMENT

Allied Education Group | Allied Schools - Fordsburg Boys
44 Bree & Burghersdorp Street, Fordsburg
EMIS: 700401377
Email: boy@alliedschools.co.za | Mobile / WhatsApp: +27 67 738 0803

School year: 2027. The learner grade and proposed start date are recorded below.

Learner full name

Learner ID / reference

Grade / age group

Parent / legal guardian 1 name

Parent / legal guardian 2, if applicable

Adult fee payer / authorised organisation representative

Payer ID / registration number

Proposed start date

2 / WHEN THIS CONTRACT TAKES EFFECT

Allied Education Group is the group identity. The operating legal entity named above provides the school service and is called the School in this contract. The relevant parent or legal guardian represents the learner; the identified fee payer accepts only the financial obligations expressly recorded. A guardian does not become a guarantor merely by providing care or contact details.

An application or payment does not guarantee a place. The School must give written acceptance identifying the campus, grade, start date, term and any lawful conditions. The School will explain its programme, available support and any assessment before acceptance. An unresolved condition must be recorded in the offer; the family may ask questions before agreeing.

3 / COMPLETING THE PACK

Complete every applicable field legibly, write N/A where an item does not apply, sign the relevant sections and attach the required supporting documents. The application is processed only when these requirements are met; admissions will identify outstanding items, including a transfer card once available. Selecting No to optional media or marketing does not invalidate an application. Sign only in a role for which you have authority. Give relevant guardianship or court orders; explain an unavailable second signature without disclosing unnecessary family information.

Fees & payment arrangements

Agreed amounts, clear due dates and a fair process for questions or payment difficulties.

1 4 / THE AGREED FEE SCHEDULE

Fordsburg Boys | Annual Fee Agreement and fee schedule: 2027.

The Annual Fee Agreement, payer record and dated Fordsburg Boys fee schedule form part of this contract. Together they identify tuition, enrolment, agreed optional services, the selected payment frequency, instalments, due dates and applicable published savings.

The fee payer undertakes to pay the agreed account. A sponsor or employer arrangement must name the party actually responsible; it does not silently transfer liability to another adult. Parents' separation or a private allocation of fees does not change a signatory's express obligation without the School's written agreement. No suretyship is created by this contract.

2 5 / PAYMENT, SERVICES AND CHANGES

Pay to the tuition account shown in this pack or on the learner's campus invoice. New learners: learner first name and surname. Existing parents: learner names / Family Code. Send proof of payment and account enquiries to accounts1@alliedschools.co.za. A debit order requires its separate mandate. Statements or account reconciliation are available on request. Report a disputed entry promptly, with reasons; undisputed amounts remain payable during review.

Aftercare, transport, excursions and other optional services need the relevant written arrangement and disclosed cost before acceptance. Annual fee changes and renewal terms must be communicated in advance, with any notice, information and choices required by law. The School may not impose a retrospective charge or undisclosed compulsory extra by changing a policy. Ordinary absence does not by itself suspend tuition fees; statutory rights and remedies for services not delivered remain available.

3 6 / FINANCIAL ASSESSMENT AND ARREARS

For a fee-paying adult who is employed, submit recent payslips and bank statements covering 3-6 months; a self-employed payer submits recent bank statements covering three months. Send these securely through the School's confirmed process. Access is limited to necessary financial administration. Any credit check is governed by the separate Credit assessment policy and consent (AEG-P02), applicable law and the adult's recorded authorisation.

Contact the School early about financial difficulty. It will consider a reasonable written payment-plan request and explain a refusal. Interest is zero unless a specific rate is expressly recorded in the completed fee schedule and may lawfully be charged. Recovery costs are limited to amounts lawfully recoverable or assessed; there is no automatic attorney-and-own-client cost entitlement. Arrears do not bypass the notice, remedy and learner-protection process in clause 14.

Learning, attendance & conduct

A respectful learning community, with clear responsibilities and fair decisions.

1 7 / THE EDUCATIONAL PARTNERSHIP

The School will deliver its stated curriculum, assessment programme, reasonable supervision and agreed support with appropriate care and skill. It will keep families reasonably informed about progress and concerns, and discuss support needs and referrals. A specialist service, additional cost or substantial change to agreed support must be explained and agreed where required. Admission and support decisions must be fair and lawful; an identified disability is not a blanket reason for exclusion.

Parents and guardians will support learning, attend relevant meetings and supply accurate contact, custody and care information. Learners will make age-appropriate efforts, complete work honestly and seek help. The School will explain subject combinations, assessment and examination deadlines. Families must respond promptly to information requests; the School remains responsible for its own agreed and legal registration duties.

2 8 / ATTENDANCE AND EVERYDAY STANDARDS

Learners must attend punctually, follow the issued timetable and remain in supervised areas. Report an absence or collection change promptly through the agreed campus channel; obtain permission for planned absence and arrange suitable catch-up work. The School will follow up unexplained absence and apply its safeguarding process where necessary. Notify the School of infectious illness and relevant medical advice without disclosing unrelated health information.

Everyone must respect others' dignity, safety, beliefs and property. Bullying, harassment, discrimination, threats, violence, dangerous items, illegal substances, cheating and deliberate damage are unacceptable. Follow reasonable staff instructions and the included Conduct and Attendance, Safeguarding, Medical Care and Collection, and Digital Use, Uniform and Property policies. Learners may raise a concern respectfully or report unsafe behaviour. Uniform and device rules must be explained, applied proportionately and allow lawful accommodations.

3 9 / FAIR DISCIPLINE AND RAISING CONCERNS

The School will use supportive, age-appropriate measures and fair procedures. Before a serious sanction, it will explain the allegation, allow a meaningful response with suitable guardian support, consider evidence, disability or support needs and the learner's best interests, and give reasons and a review route. Urgent protective measures must be proportionate and reviewed promptly. Corporal punishment and degrading treatment are prohibited. Searches or testing occur only when lawful and with privacy, dignity and required safeguards.

Raise a concern with the relevant educator or service contact, then the principal and group complaints contact under Services and Complaints. A person need not obtain School permission to approach an education authority, regulator, ombud or court. Internal procedures do not suspend a legal deadline or remove external remedies. A good-faith complaint must not result in retaliation against a learner or family.

Care, collection & activity risks

Practical safeguards and limited responsibilities. The learner's legal rights remain protected.

1 10 / HEALTH AND SAFEGUARDING

Give the School information reasonably needed for safe care, including allergies, medication, emergency contacts and any individual support plan; update it promptly. Provide the clinic card or immunisation proof required for Grades 000-3 and discuss a missing record or relevant medical circumstance with admissions. Routine medicine requires suitable labelling, written instructions and an agreed administration plan. Staff may not promise treatment outside their competence.

The School will take reasonable safeguarding precautions, supervise within its service arrangements and respond to suspected abuse, neglect, illness or injury. It may make a report or share necessary information with competent authorities when law requires or permits it. A family may also report directly. Health and safeguarding records are restricted to people who need them for care or lawful duties.

2 11 / COLLECTION AND EMERGENCY HELP

Use the authorised collection list and notify the campus securely of changes. The School may verify identity and seek clarification of conflicting instructions or a relevant court order. Do not leave a learner before supervision begins or collect without the agreed release procedure. If collection fails, staff will try the authorised contacts, keep the learner appropriately supervised and follow the included safeguarding process. Any late-collection charge must have been disclosed and lawfully agreed.

In an emergency, staff will seek appropriate first aid and emergency services and make reasonable efforts to reach an authorised guardian. Treatment and any consent must comply with applicable health law, including the child's own rights and capacity. This contract does not give unrestricted authority to consent to surgery or replace consent that law requires. Necessary emergency action must not be delayed solely while locating a parent. Responsibility for medical costs follows applicable law, medical-aid cover and the relevant payer arrangement.

3 12 / ACTIVITIES, RISK AND LIMITED INDEMNITY

Routine supervised learning, play and sport involve foreseeable risks such as accidental falls or collisions. The School will take reasonable precautions, explain relevant activities and consider disclosed restrictions. Record routine choices in the separate Activities & care permissions form. Travel, overnight or higher-risk activities and extra costs require a specific notice and permission before participation; a blank signature is not permission for every future trip.

Parents will give accurate safety information and support reasonable precautions; learners will follow age-appropriate safety instructions. To the extent law permits, a responsible signatory is answerable only for proven loss caused by their own unlawful or negligent conduct or a legally established responsibility for the learner's conduct, following a fair assessment of cause and amount. There is no blanket indemnity against all injury, death, illness or loss. No term excludes the School's negligence, unlawful conduct or liability that cannot lawfully be excluded, or waives a learner's or family's statutory rights. Ordinary personal-property risks are addressed fairly under the included property policy.

Withdrawal, breach & refunds

Clear notice, a chance to resolve problems and transparent account reconciliation.

1 13 / PARENT CANCELLATION AND RENEWAL

A contracting adult may cancel on 20 business days' written or otherwise recorded notice. Section 14 of the Consumer Protection Act governs where applicable; otherwise the same period applies by agreement. Send notice to boy@alliedschools.co.za, stating the learner, campus and intended last day. Seek acknowledgement and follow up if absent. Valid cancellation needs no principal approval.

The School may charge only amounts earned up to cancellation and a lawful, reasonable cancellation charge, if justified. It must explain and itemise a proposed charge, considering the notice, services supplied, actual loss, ability to fill the place and applicable law. There is no blanket forfeiture of unused prepaid tuition or automatic full-year penalty. Keep a copy of the notice and the School's reconciliation.

A fixed-term end date, renewal proposal or continued attendance does not waive statutory duration, expiry, renewal or cancellation rights. The School must give notices and choices required by law, including applicable advance expiry information, and explain the next year's fees and renewal basis before seeking acceptance.

2 14 / BREACH, REMEDY AND SCHOOL TERMINATION

For material breach, including unpaid agreed fees, the School will give a recorded notice identifying the breach, amount where relevant, proposed remedy and a fair opportunity to respond. Where the Consumer Protection Act applies, cancellation for a consumer's material failure requires at least 20 business days' notice and an opportunity to remedy as the Act provides. The School adopts that minimum remedy period as its default contractual approach where the Act does not apply, subject to urgent lawful safeguarding measures.

Before termination affecting a learner, the School will consider the child's best interests, allow fair representations and consider proportionate alternatives and continuity of education. Discipline follows clause 9; a fee dispute does not justify arbitrary humiliation or punishment of the learner. Give a reasoned written outcome and review route. Any lawful urgent safety restriction must be distinguished from final termination, explained and promptly reviewed.

3 15 / RECONCILIATION AND SERVICE CHANGES

On departure, the School will reconcile tuition, agreed services, credits and any lawful itemised charges. It will return the resulting credit promptly, ordinarily within 30 calendar days after the account and refund destination are confirmed, unless a shorter legal period applies. Used items, genuine services already supplied or committed third-party costs are considered individually; a label such as deposit does not make every payment non-refundable. A disputed deduction must be explained.

The School will give reasonable notice of a material programme, campus or service change or closure, explain alternatives and the effect on fees, and respect cancellation and refund rights. It will cooperate with a lawful transfer and applicable records obligations. No clause permits withholding a learner's rights, records or statutory remedies merely because the parties have an account dispute.

Privacy, notices & general terms

Necessary school administration and optional choices are explained separately.

1 16 / PERSONAL INFORMATION AND PERMISSIONS

The full Allied Education Group Personal Information Policy and Consent explains the operating school's role, information, purposes and lawful bases, children and special information safeguards, recipients, security, retention and rights. Necessary education, safety, account and legal processing requires an appropriate lawful basis; signing is not unlimited consent for every use.

An authorised competent person records any consent needed for a child's information. An adult fee payer records their own credit-check choice separately. Optional publicity, public images, direct marketing and parent messaging groups require the choices recorded in the dedicated forms. Refusing or withdrawing an optional permission does not by itself cancel the learner's place. Withdrawal affects future consent-based use, subject to lawful retention and practical limits explained in the policy. The School will offer a suitable route for essential notices when an optional channel is declined.

2 17 / COMMUNICATION AND NOTICE ADDRESSES

Contracting adult's physical address for formal notices

Contracting adult's email for recorded notices

Contact number

School contact and service address: 44 Bree & Burghersdorp Street, Fordsburg. Email: boy@alliedschools.co.za. Direct privacy requests to the campus, marked for the Information Officer. A party must notify the other of a contact change promptly. For joint contracting adults, record any additional notice address with the application.

Written notices may be delivered by hand, reliable post, email or another agreed recorded channel, subject to legal service requirements. Keep evidence of delivery. A message is not conclusively received merely because it was sent; follow up a delivery failure and use another reasonable channel where necessary. Operational messages and legal service are distinct, and lawful rules on receipt remain applicable.

3 18 / POLICY CHANGES, INTERPRETATION AND RIGHTS

The policies included in this pack explain this contract and apply to the learner's enrolment. The School may give reasonable safety instructions and update procedures lawfully after suitable notice. A policy update cannot silently impose a new fee, waive a right or fundamentally change an agreed service. Material contractual changes require appropriate notice and agreement or other lawful authority. Specific written arrangements prevail over general wording only to the extent lawful; statutory protections prevail.

This contract, accepted offer, completed fee agreement and recorded policies form the agreement. Retain written agreed variations. Delayed enforcement is not a permanent waiver. If a term is unenforceable, the remaining lawful terms continue where reasonably separable. South African law applies; lawful complaints and remedies remain available. A transfer of the service must comply with law, give appropriate notice and protect educational and privacy rights. The family and fee payer will receive a complete accepted copy.

ALLIED EDUCATION GROUP | AEG-P01 | PART 1 OF 4

Personal information policy

Who handles your information, what we collect and why it is needed.

1 / SCOPE, SCHOOL IDENTITY & ACCOUNTABILITY

This policy applies to admissions, enrolment and family relationships across Allied Education Group's participating Allied Schools campuses. It covers learners, applicants, parents, legal guardians, account holders, emergency contacts and authorised collectors. For this application your school is Allied Schools - Fordsburg Boys. Authorised Group administration supports the school's admissions, education, care and account functions.

EMIS: 700401377
Email: boy@alliedschools.co.za | Mobile / WhatsApp: +27 67 738 0803

Privacy requests: email boy@alliedschools.co.za with the subject "Information Officer - privacy request", or deliver the request to the campus office. The campus directs the request to the responsible Information Officer. Identity and authority are verified where required before information is released.

2 / INFORMATION COVERED

We collect relevant identity and contact details; dates of birth and photographs; family, guardianship and collection arrangements; education history, reports, subject selections, attendance and learning-support records; health, immunisation, allergy and emergency-care information; correspondence, permissions and signatures. Account administration includes the adult payer's employment or business details, income evidence, bank statements, payment instructions, account history and authorised credit-check results. We ask only for information reasonably needed for the stated purpose. A request for additional sensitive information must explain its purpose and lawful basis.

3 / SOURCES & FAIR COLLECTION

Information is normally supplied by the individual or the learner's competent parent / legal guardian. With the appropriate authority or another lawful basis, relevant facts may be checked with previous schools, examining bodies, healthcare or support professionals, employers, banks, registered credit bureaux, courts and public authorities. School systems also create education and account records. Where information comes from another source, we explain that source and use when required. Tell contacts whose details you provide about this policy and provide details only where you are entitled to do so.

> Policy reference AEG-P01. Read all four parts. Separate credit-check authority is recorded under AEG-P02.

Lawful use & responsible sharing

Specific school purposes, extra protection for children and controlled disclosure.

1 4 / PURPOSES & LAWFUL GROUNDS

We use relevant information to evaluate an application; verify identity and authority; communicate the outcome; conclude and administer the enrolment agreement; teach, assess and support the learner; manage attendance, safeguarding, medical response and collection; provide agreed services; invoice and manage accounts; address enquiries and complaints; meet lawful reporting duties; and establish or defend legal rights. Financial evidence supports a confidential assessment of the adult fee payer's proposed arrangement, not an assessment of a child's character.

For adults, processing may rely on informed consent, steps to conclude or perform a contract, a legal obligation, protection of the individual's legitimate interests or another ground permitted by POPIA. Legitimate-interest processing must remain necessary, proportionate and open to a lawful objection. We identify the basis appropriate to the actual use. Signing this pack does not authorise unrelated uses or override the additional rules for children and special personal information.

2 5 / CHILDREN & SPECIAL PERSONAL INFORMATION

A competent person must give prior, informed permission for the stated processing of a minor's information unless another authorisation under section 35 of POPIA applies. The signing person records their relationship and legal authority; the school may ask for supporting evidence. A learner aged 18 or older makes their own privacy choices. A parent's financial obligations and lawful emergency responsibilities remain separate.

Health, disability, religious or other special personal information receives additional protection. We process it only with the relevant consent or another applicable legal authorisation, for a stated need such as safe care, accommodation or a legal duty. Access is limited to people who need the relevant information. No health record, religious detail or child's data forms part of a parent's credit enquiry. Detailed care instructions and emergency-treatment authority remain on the medical forms.

3 6 / RECIPIENTS, GROUP ACCESS & OPERATORS

Relevant records are accessible to authorised campus and Group admissions, teaching, care, management and finance staff. Necessary information may reach contracted administration, payment, IT, hosting, records, communication or professional-support providers; health or emergency services; and education, examination, regulatory or law-enforcement authorities where legally required or permitted. Previous or receiving schools receive only relevant records on a lawful basis. Credit bureaux are addressed in AEG-P02.

Group access is based on a defined function and need to know. Service providers acting as operators must follow written instructions, confidentiality and appropriate security duties; they may not use school records for their own advertising. Independent professionals and authorities carry their own legal duties. We do not sell family information. Public images, marketing and optional parent groups require the separate choices in Part 4.

4 7 / SERVICES OUTSIDE SOUTH AFRICA

Before access from or storage in another country, we assess the recipient and safeguards. Transfers must meet POPIA's cross-border conditions, including adequate protection through law or a binding agreement, or another permitted basis. Additional requirements for children's or special information, including prior regulatory authorisation where required, must be met. Ask the Information Officer for relevant countries, providers and safeguards.

Security, retention & your rights

Practical safeguards, fair retention and a clear route for privacy requests.

1 8 / SECURITY & INCIDENT RESPONSE

The school applies reasonable technical and organisational safeguards, including controlled access, staff confidentiality, secure paper storage, protected digital accounts and secure transfer and disposal. Safeguards are reviewed as risks change. Operators must report suspected compromise promptly. The school contains and remedies incidents and notifies the Information Regulator and affected individuals when and as required by POPIA. Consent does not release these duties.

2 9 / RETENTION, RESTRICTION & DISPOSAL

Records are kept only as long as needed for their stated purpose, unless a law, enforceable contractual duty or another permitted basis justifies longer retention. Education, safeguarding, accounting, consent and dispute records can have different periods. A specific legal hold delays disposal of the affected record; it does not permit unrelated use. Unsuccessful applications and credit evidence are reviewed when their purpose ends. Ask the Information Officer for the applicable retention period or criterion.

When retention is no longer justified, we securely destroy, delete or irreversibly de-identify the information. Where POPIA requires restricted processing, disputed or protected records are restricted while the relevant issue is resolved. Withdrawal of consent does not require destruction of a record that must lawfully be retained, but does stop future consent-based use where no other lawful basis applies. This policy creates no indefinite or unconditional consent.

3 10 / ACCESS, CORRECTION, OBJECTION & WITHDRAWAL

After identity and authority checks, you may ask whether we hold your information and request access; seek correction or deletion of inaccurate, irrelevant, excessive, outdated, incomplete, misleading or unlawfully obtained information; and request destruction where retention is no longer authorised. You may object where POPIA permits, withdraw consent for future use and stop marketing. Earlier lawful processing remains valid. Another person's privacy or a legal restriction may limit access; we explain a lawful refusal and available remedies.

Send requests to Part 1's Information Officer. The school assists with forms and accessible submission, including email or office delivery. Objections and correction / deletion requests are free through the channels allowed by the POPIA Regulations. Any lawful access or reproduction fee is explained in advance. We communicate outcomes within applicable legal timeframes.

4 11 / DECISIONS, COMPLAINTS & CHANGES

A significant admissions or payment decision must not rely solely on an automated score without POPIA's required protections. Ask a responsible staff member to review information, hear corrections and explain the decision. Raise a concern with the Information Officer or complain directly to the Information Regulator: inforegulator.org.za; enquiries@inforegulator.org.za; 010 023 5200. Its website provides current forms and the complaint portal.

We explain why requested information is necessary and the effect of not providing it. An incomplete mandatory record may prevent assessment or safe provision of a service; refusal of optional media or marketing permission does not block an application. Material policy changes are communicated before a new use. A new purpose is assessed for compatibility and, where needed, fresh consent. Operational notices remain separate. Marketing messages must identify the sender and offer a practical stop option. Keep a copy of the policy and your choices.

Credit & financial assessment policy

A defined adult-payer assessment, confidential evidence and fair review.

1 / PURPOSE, PEOPLE & SCOPE

Allied Education Group and the school operating entity identified in the enrolment agreement may assess an adult account holder's proposed fee-payment arrangement. Relevant income evidence, account history and a specifically authorised credit enquiry help the finance office consider ability to meet the stated fees and discuss a suitable arrangement. This is an adult-payer assessment, not a credit check on a learner. A company or other organisation supplies its own authority and financial evidence. A representative's signature does not authorise a personal enquiry on every director, partner or guardian.

2 / EVIDENCE & APPROPRIATE VERIFICATION

An employed fee payer submits recent payslips and bank statements covering 3-6 months, as specified for the assessment. A self-employed fee payer submits recent bank statements covering 3 months. The office records the period required and any agreed explanation or alternative evidence. Identity and home / work address evidence must match the payer where applicable. Keep financial documents confidential and submit them directly to admissions / finance through the school's designated channel, never a public parent group.

Verification is limited to relevant identity, employment, income, business or account facts. It may involve an authorised verification supplier, employer, bank or registered credit bureau, using the required authority and lawful process. The school does not request passwords, PINs or unrestricted access to banking. Health, religion, race and a child's records must not be supplied for an adult credit assessment.

3 / SPECIFIC AUTHORITY BEFORE ANY ENQUIRY

Before requesting a report, finance supplies a written notice identifying the school entity, named registered bureau / supplier and precise purpose. The account holder reads it with Part 2 and gives specific signed authority before enquiry. The purpose must comply with applicable credit law and bureau rules; consent cannot authorise a prohibited enquiry. Authority ends when the assessment is completed or consent is withdrawn, subject to an independent lawful duty. A later assessment or different use requires fresh authority unless another lawful basis is explained. This permits neither perpetual searches nor marketing.

If the payer records No, no consent-based enquiry may be made. Finance explains what can be assessed from the documents provided, whether an alternative arrangement is available and any resulting effect on the proposed payment terms. No blank choice is treated as consent. Credit consent does not itself create a loan, debit-order mandate, suretyship, joint liability or confirmed school place.

4 / CONFIDENTIALITY, DECISIONS & YOUR RIGHTS

Only authorised admissions / finance decision-makers and necessary contracted providers may see relevant financial information. Records must be protected and retained only for a justified assessment, account, legal or dispute purpose under AEG-P01. There is no permission to sell reports or share them with unrelated parties. Ask which bureau was used, request the relevant information lawfully held, seek correction and ask a staff member to review an adverse assessment or disputed data.

You may obtain your credit record, dispute bureau errors without a dispute fee and escalate an unresolved complaint to the National Credit Regulator at ncr.org.za. A score does not replace fair review. Any lawful payment or adverse reporting must meet applicable accuracy, authority, notice and dispute requirements. Consent is not blanket authority to blacklist. Part 2 preserves statutory protections and the school's duties.

ALLIED EDUCATION GROUP | AEG-P02 | PART 2 OF 2

Credit consent & indemnity

Adult fee-payer information, credit-assessment choice and limited indemnity.

1 5 / ASSESSMENT PURPOSE AND SCHOOL CONTACT

School: Allied Schools - Fordsburg Boys, Allied Education Group.
Purpose: confidential assessment of the adult fee payer's proposed tuition-payment arrangement.
Accounts contact: accounts1@alliedschools.co.za

A credit-bureau enquiry requires prior disclosure of the named registered bureau or verification supplier and the specific enquiry to the account holder. The Yes choice below applies only after that disclosure and the account holder's specific signed authority. It does not authorise an unidentified supplier, a new purpose or a later repeat search.

2 6 / ADULT ACCOUNT HOLDER & DECISION

Account holder's full legal name / organisation

ID / passport / registration no.

Residential / business address

Date of birth (individual)

Mobile number

Email address

I authorise this enquiry

☐ Yes ☐ No

I have read AEG-P01 and AEG-P02. If Yes, I authorise this entity and supplier to obtain and use relevant credit / verification information for this assessment. I may withdraw future enquiry consent through the Information Officer. Earlier lawful processing and justified retention remain valid. If No, discuss alternatives with finance; signature alone authorises no enquiry.

3 7 / IMPORTANT: LIMITED INDEMNITY & ACCURACY

I confirm accuracy to the best of my knowledge and will correct material errors. To the extent lawful, I indemnify the school only for direct, reasonable loss it proves my own fraud or wilfully false assessment information caused. Disputes require fair process; no automatic debit or unproved charge is authorised.

This excludes the Group's, school's, staff's and suppliers' negligence, gross negligence, unlawful processing, unauthorised disclosure or failure of security / legal duties. It excludes independent third-party errors and preserves children's rights, POPIA, consumer and credit protections, correction and dispute rights.

ALLIED EDUCATION GROUP | AEG-P03

Conduct and attendance policy

A safe, respectful school community and consistent participation in learning.

1 / ATTENDANCE, PUNCTUALITY AND FOLLOW-UP

Allied Education Group expects learners to attend their confirmed programme punctually and remain under the agreed supervision until authorised departure. Parents must notify the campus office of an absence, reason and expected duration before the school day starts, or as soon as possible in an emergency. The campus records attendance and lateness daily, checks unexplained absence with the parent and escalates a learner whose whereabouts are unknown to the campus lead immediately. Repeated absence or lateness triggers a family meeting and a recorded support plan. A parent must arrange missed work with the teacher. Early departure requires office approval and the collection checks in the safeguarding policy; a learner may not leave simply because a message was sent.

2 / LEARNING, HOMEWORK AND ASSESSMENT

Teachers explain age-appropriate class routines, homework, assessment requirements and deadlines. Learners bring the materials on the issued campus list, participate respectfully and submit their own work. Parents provide reasonable support and notify the teacher promptly of illness, access difficulties or a learning need affecting completion. The teacher records agreed extensions or support and explains how missed assessments will be addressed. Cheating, impersonation, copying and presenting another person's or an AI system's work as one's own are prohibited. Concerns are investigated with the learner before an academic consequence is decided. Support needs and reasonable accommodations must be considered; a concern is not treated as proof of dishonesty.

3 / RESPECT, SAFETY AND ANTI-BULLYING

Violence, threats, harassment, discrimination, sexual misconduct, bullying, cyberbullying, degrading initiation, theft and dangerous or unlawful items are prohibited. Learners and families report incidents to a teacher or the campus lead promptly; anyone may approach the Group directly if the concern involves that lead. Staff first protect those at risk, preserve relevant evidence and record the report. The campus lead arranges a fair investigation, support and proportionate protective measures, sharing information only with those who need it. Retaliation for reporting or seeking help is prohibited. A safeguarding concern must also follow the statutory reporting procedure and is not settled through an informal apology alone.

4 / FAIR DISCIPLINE AND REVIEW

Discipline teaches accountability and protects learning. Responses may include explanation, restorative work, family engagement and an individual behaviour plan. No corporal punishment, humiliation, abusive treatment or deprivation of basic care is permitted. Before a serious sanction, the family receives the allegation, a meaningful opportunity to respond and assistance appropriate to the learner's age and needs. An impartial decision-maker records the evidence, reasons and proportionate outcome. Any temporary safety measure is reviewed promptly and educational access is considered. There is no automatic expulsion. The family may request review by the Group through the complaints procedure; contractual termination and legal rights remain subject to applicable law.

ALLIED EDUCATION GROUP | AEG-P04

Safeguarding, medical care and collection

Clear reporting, individual care plans and a verified handover for every learner.

1 / PROTECTING CHILDREN AND REPORTING CONCERNS

Allied Education Group places the learner's safety and best interests at the centre of care. Report suspected abuse, neglect, exploitation, unsafe conduct or a missing learner immediately to the campus lead; concerns about that person go directly to the Group. A staff member listens without promising secrecy, records the learner's own words and avoids leading questions or an informal investigation that could compromise protection. The lead secures immediate safety and preserves the record. Staff must make any report required by law to the relevant child-protection authority or police; internal reporting never replaces that duty or requires management or parental permission. Information is restricted to those supporting protection and lawful investigation.

2 / HEALTH INFORMATION, ILLNESS AND MEDICATION

Parents provide current emergency contacts, allergies, medical conditions, immunisation information and any individual support or emergency plan, and report changes promptly. The campus lead agrees practical care instructions and shares necessary precautions with responsible staff. A sick learner remains supervised while the family is contacted; staff seek urgent medical assistance when needed. Medicine must arrive in its labelled original container with written parent instructions stating the learner, medicine, dose, time and relevant clinician directions. The campus records receipt, secure storage and each administration; trained staff follow the agreed plan. Learners may carry essential emergency medication only under a documented arrangement. Staff do not improvise doses, share medicines or administer an unlabelled medicine.

3 / EMERGENCIES AND ACTIVITY-SPECIFIC CONSENT

In an emergency, staff give assistance within their competence, summon qualified help, contact the parent and emergency contacts, and provide relevant medical information to the treating practitioner. The campus records the incident, actions and contacts. A parent authorises reasonable arrangements to obtain urgent assessment and transport; treatment consent remains governed by law and the treating practitioner's responsibilities. This policy does not delegate blanket authority to school staff to consent to surgery. The parent is informed as soon as reasonably possible and receives a follow-up record. Off-site travel, overnight activities or activities involving unusual risk or extra cost require a separate notice and specific permission, with care needs checked before participation.

4 / COLLECTION, RESTRICTIONS AND UNCOLLECTED LEARNERS

Parents list authorised collectors and supply enforceable custody or collection restrictions. Changes must reach the office through a verified parent contact before handover. Staff check an unfamiliar collector's identity against the record, log departure and refuse an unverified or unsafe handover while contacting the parent and campus lead. Older learners leave independently only under a written arrangement. If a child is uncollected, staff contact the parent and at least two listed emergency contacts, inform the lead and maintain protected supervision in a safe designated area. If nobody can be reached or safety is threatened, the lead contacts the appropriate protection or emergency authority. A learner is never abandoned, sent away alone or handed to an unauthorised person.

ALLIED EDUCATION GROUP | AEG-P05

Digital use, uniform and property policy

Responsible technology use, practical dress standards and respect for shared resources.

1 / APPROVED LEARNING TOOLS AND HONEST WORK

Allied Education Group permits devices, platforms and online activities approved for the learner's age, programme and lesson. The teacher explains permitted use, supervision and any activity-specific restrictions. A learner may use a personal device at school only under the campus arrangement and must keep it safely stored when not required. Families discuss accessibility or connectivity difficulties with the teacher so that a practical alternative can be agreed. Learners submit authentic work, acknowledge sources and follow the assessment instructions for calculators, collaboration and AI tools. AI-generated material may be used only where the teacher permits it, with the required disclosure; it may not replace the learner's own assessed work or fabricate sources.

2 / ONLINE SAFETY, PRIVACY AND INCIDENT RESPONSE

Keep passwords private, use only assigned accounts and report a lost device, suspicious message, exposed password or harmful content promptly. Do not access another person's account, bypass security, install unauthorised software or use school systems for unlawful activity. Cyberbullying, harassment and sharing sexual, discriminatory or threatening content are prohibited. Learners must not record or publish identifiable classmates or staff without appropriate permission. Staff secure the affected account or device, preserve relevant evidence and refer safety concerns to the campus lead. Review of school systems is limited to legitimate education, security or safeguarding purposes, with proportionate access and handling under the privacy policy. This policy creates no unrestricted right to search personal accounts or secretly monitor families.

3 / UNIFORM, APPEARANCE AND ACCOMMODATIONS

The campus issues the applicable uniform, footwear, sportswear and equipment list before families must purchase items. Parents label belongings clearly and send clothing suitable for the day's programme and weather. Learners wear the issued uniform appropriately and follow reasonable hygiene and safety requirements. The campus considers religious, cultural, disability, medical, sensory and financial circumstances when a family requests an accommodation; the lead records the agreed adjustment and informs relevant staff discreetly. Families may raise an objection through the complaints procedure. A dress concern is addressed respectfully with the learner and family, without public humiliation, discriminatory treatment or an arbitrary demand for an item absent from the issued list.

4 / CARE, LOSS, DAMAGE AND TEMPORARY CUSTODY

Learners care for school resources and other people's belongings and report loss or damage promptly. Staff log found items, store them safely and offer a reasonable opportunity for identification and collection before the campus communicates a disposal or donation date. The campus records any device or item temporarily held for a lawful safety or conduct reason, explains the return arrangement and protects it while in custody. A family is not automatically liable for every loss. Before requesting a replacement or repair contribution, the school establishes responsibility, considers the family's response and provides evidence of the reasonable actual cost and the applicable agreement. No payment request waives responsibility for loss caused by the school's own unlawful conduct or negligence.

ALLIED EDUCATION GROUP | AEG-P06

Services and complaints policy

Confirmed optional services, safe handovers and a clear route for resolving concerns.

1 / WRITTEN SERVICE CONFIRMATION AND CHANGES

Allied Education Group offers aftercare or transport only where the campus confirms availability in writing. An application alone does not reserve a place. Before service starts, the family and school record the provider, days, start date, operating times, collection or route arrangements, fees, payment dates and any notice or cancellation terms in the service schedule. The family receives a copy. Additional charges or changes to the agreed service must be clearly explained and agreed where required; this policy creates no fixed late-collection penalty. Parents notify the office of an absence or changed arrangement before the relevant session or departure. Staff verify a message through a recorded parent contact when it changes responsibility for a learner.

2 / AFTERCARE ATTENDANCE AND DAILY CARE

Aftercare staff check each booked learner into the session against the school handover register and investigate an unexpected absence immediately with the school office and parent. Attendance and authorised collection are recorded each day. Staff provide the confirmed programme, age-appropriate supervision, rest and agreed homework support; homework assistance does not guarantee completion or assessment outcomes. Parents supply the agreed meals, labelled belongings, dietary restrictions and current care instructions. Staff follow allergy precautions, medication plans and safeguarding procedures. Only authorised persons collect learners, with identity checks where necessary. Delayed collection triggers parent and emergency-contact calls and continued safe supervision under the collection policy; a learner is never left unattended when the service closes.

3 / TRANSPORT SAFETY AND HANDOVER

Before a school-arranged service begins, the campus records the operator and checks the applicable driver licence, professional driving permit where required, vehicle fitness and other required authorisations. Families receive the confirmed pickup point, times, route contacts and handover arrangements. The driver or attendant records learners boarding and leaving, checks the vehicle after the route and reports a missing learner, delay, incident or unsafe condition to the campus immediately. Learners follow safety instructions and use provided restraints. No unauthorised route, stop or collector change is accepted from the learner alone. The school and parent agree responsibility at each handover; staff do not release a child where the agreed receiving adult is absent. A privately arranged operator remains identified separately from a school-arranged service.

4 / COMPLAINTS, ESCALATION AND EXTERNAL RIGHTS

Raise an ordinary learning or service concern with the responsible teacher or service coordinator, then the campus lead if unresolved. Send a concern involving the lead, or a requested review, to Allied Education Group at info@alliedschools.co.za with the learner, campus, facts and requested outcome. The Group aims to acknowledge within two business days and provide a written response within ten business days; if investigation takes longer, it gives an update and revised response date. A person not involved in the disputed decision reviews an escalation where practicable. Records are kept securely and retaliation is prohibited. Urgent safety concerns receive immediate attention. Families may contact police, child-protection authorities, education authorities, the Information Regulator or another competent body at any time; internal steps never require permission or remove external rights.
